

KODAK

Dental Intraoral D-Speed Film

Excellent images with fine detail and high contrast

Kodak Dental Intraoral D-Speed Film is a cost-effective, high-quality solution if you need the technique settings of a traditional dental radiographic system. Along with fine detail and high contrast, this film delivers outstanding processing and handling characteristics.

- A proven industry standard D-speed film from Kodak – a leader in the dental industry
- Processes in automated or manual equipment; no change in your current processing procedures or equipment is required
- Produces consistently high-quality images, ideal for diagnostic purposes
- Minimizes retakes and maximizes ease of use
- Available in 100-packet boxes which requires less storage space and allows you to use entire stock prior to expiration date

Order Kodak Dental Intraoral D-Speed Film and other supplies today from one convenient source.

Contact your dealer of Kodak Dental Products.

